JUNE

PopUP Forest (June 2 – June 5)

Channel Gardens

Rockefeller Center is presenting the PopUP Forest brought to life by Open Space Institute to celebrate World Environment Day with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) from 11am to 3pm daily, from June 2 through June 5. The celebration will feature a mobile PopUP Forest, which is a mini woodland on wheels, complete with indigenous flora that will ride throughout the Channel Gardens. Those lucky enough to see the PopUP Forest will be able to take nature selfies and receive wildflower giveaways. On Saturday, June 4 and Sunday, June 5, in addition to the PopUP Forest bike, there will be family fun programs including planting workshops, looking through microscopes at plants with the New York Mycological Society and more! More information can be found here.

Art in Focus featuring Emily Mullin (June 12 – September 2)

Various Locations

Since its inception nearly a century ago, Rockefeller Center has housed hundreds of priceless works of art hidden in plain sight, including, for a limited time, Brooklyn-based artist Emily Mullin's colorful photographs, gorgeous ceramic work, and live floral installations throughout 10, 30, 45, and 50 Rockefeller Plazas, and up on top of the world at Top of the Rock. Presented in Partnership with Art Production Fund, Emily's work can be seen for free throughout the Rockefeller Center Campus, and ticket holders visiting Top of the Rock will be greeted with additional pieces from Mullin's collection. More information can be found here.

Star Party (Summer Equinox, June 17)

11:30pm – 7am

Top of the Rock Observation Deck

Rockefeller Center is holding the second edition of their Star Party, an overnight public music program and celebration of the Summer Equinox. The June 17th Star Party will feature performances by harpist and composer Mary Lattimore. Timed with seasonal equinoxes and solstices, Rockefeller Center's Star Parties consist of all-night sleepover events at Top of the Rock, the famed observation deck featuring 360-degree views of iconic landmarks and the city's skyline from the 67th to 70th floors of 30 Rockefeller Plaza. Rockefeller Center will host another Star Party in September celebrating the Fall Equinox, with featured artist Shigeto serving up all-night sets tempered with cool shades of ambient music, stuttering early IDM, dubstep sub-bass, and jazz melodicism. Space is limited, and tickets can be purchased here.

Jeppe Hein, "Changing Spaces" (June 21 – September 9)

Center Plaza

This summer, renowned visual artist Jeppe Hein will present "Changing Spaces," an interactive public art installation on Rockefeller Center's Center Plaza. This water-based sculpture – which Hein describes as a form of social sculpture and "liquid architecture" – will inspire visitors to interact playfully with the artwork and their surroundings and offer a peaceful respite within this iconic city center. Free and open to the public. More information can be found here.

Pride 2022: Love Above All Ball (June 24)

9pm – 2am

Rainbow Room

In celebration of Pride, and to kick off an unforgettable summer to remember, Rockefeller Center will host the 2022 Love Above All Ball on June 24th from 9pm to 2am at the iconic Rainbow Room. This event will benefit this year's partner, Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS, the philanthropic heart of Broadway that's committed to helping people across the country receive lifesaving medications, health care, nutritious meals, counseling, and emergency financial services. The Rainbow Room will feature headline performances from Oliver Sim, the artist best known as bassist and co-front man of The xx who has just begun releasing his own solo music, and Kill the Lights' singer and actor Alex Newell. Additional special performances can be expected.

Also in June, Rockefeller Center will be awash in signs and symbols of Pride throughout the campus with rainbow pathways, hundreds of Pride flags surrounding The Rink, and vinyl decals decorating its spaces. Select retailers will offer limited edition items, discounts, and activations for the month-long celebration.

Tickets to the Love Above All Ball are available for purchase here.
